

People tell stories about Big Foot. Some of them believe this beast is real. They say it lives in the deep, mountain forests of the western United States. It is described as being over six feet tall with coarse, human-like hair from head to toe. Big Foot is said to give off a very foul odor.

Some people claim to have heard a loud, bellowing cry when they were camping. Did Big Foot make the noise? Visitors to the area have told friends they saw the hairy beast. Some say they saw it running through the forest. Yet, they didn't tell forest rangers. They were afraid the animal would be captured. Others insist they have photographs of huge footprints that prove its existence.

Most people think Big Foot is an imaginary creature. They say the reports are just plain silliness. They suggest the people who saw the beast were simply mistaken. They failed to report the sightings because it was just their imagination.

What is the truth? Until a live Big Foot or its skeleton is found, the debate will not end. Stories about Big Foot are like tales about the jack-a-lope. Cowboys invented it. It is a cross between a jackrabbit and an antelope. They made it up while sitting around campfires. Could this be how the legend of Big Foot began?
